Look for features in your aliens' physiology that might make for improbable scenarios, such as a species with gills invading a species on land. Find ways to rework those improbabilities. Remember, form follows function. A flying alien will probably be very slim and lightly built while a swimming one might be streamlined like a dolphin or shark.

Daisy Kirkwood has only just escaped her small-town life and run away to New York City, the land of last-minute secret gigs at famous musical venues, when she's kidnapped by aliens. Unfortunately, no one ever writes about how to handle alien abduction in those fancy NYC guidebooks. Griffin and Dev are supermassively sexy aliens from a politically and environmentally troubled planet who arrive on Earth with very little knowledge about human ways other than what they learned from a wayward E! News signal. Their mission is to pretend to be the most influential people on the planet—English pop stars, of course!—and gain the help of a powerful secret society. Upon arriving, they abduct Daisy Kirkwood, a nerdy young woman who loves music but could seriously use a bit of help in the love-life department. Though Griffin and Daisy initially squabble, neither can deny the intergalactic sparks whenever they're too close to each other. Together, they must face murderous aliens, cultural misunderstandings, bad backup musicians, and the dark side of fame and the media, all set against a tight deadline... Part High Fidelity, part Bridget Jones' Diary, part Doctor Who, Dating an Alien Pop Star is a sexy romantic comedy.

studying... Drago has made the extraordinary journey to Earth from faraway planet Aerie. But his life as a lab subject is simple. He eats, he reads, and he dutifully tries to click permanently into his human form. Most of all, he lives for his momentary daily contact with lab tech Arden Green, the woman he recognizes as his mate the first time he sees her. But the delicate balance at the lab won't last forever. When circumstances force Drago and two of his brothers to flee, Arden must help them escape. But can she keep her relationship with her subject professional? Or has science blinded her to true love? Educated about humankind by the 1980s movies that came to them in an interstellar time capsule, these gorgeous gentlemen are eager to meet Earth girls... About the Stargazer Alien Brides series (Intergalactic Dating Agency): Collection 1 focuses on three couples in a small Pennsylvania town, featuring Bond, Rocky and Magnum. Collection 2 follows the story to a resort in the Catskills where three new couples meet and features Kitt, Remington and Indiana. Collection 3 continues the adventure with three new couples in a small-town police academy, featuring Lobo, Conan and Hawkeye. Collection 4 features Kirk, Buck and Solo as they try to connect with their chosen mates at a comic convention. Collection 5 comes back to Stargazer, and a small farm where love is in bloom for Drago, Burton and Riggs.

Fancy a ride on the love train? Here's a book for your trip! 'Loving an Alien' is a riveting collection of intimate interviews with brave women who crossed the cultural divide and loved to tell the tale. Vive la difference! Here's how it all started... In 1995, when young Romanian journalist Angela Nicoara applied to the BBC School in Bucharest, it changed her life in ways she could never have imagined. Raised in the closed society of communist Romania and stung by a recent divorce, she doubted her chances for a better future. But then she met some British guy, in a gloomy corridor, and everything changed. "There was a power cut at BBC School. It was so dark I could hardly see him. We chatted for a few minutes, sharing a joke about the excellent conditions, and I had a feeling I'd never experienced before, as if I'd known him all my life. Why?" Turns out, Cupid had just fired a couple of arrows that landed bang on target. Angela and her Brit spent the next twenty years traveling and working around the world - with a brief stop in Las Vegas to get married - and are now settled in a tiny village in the mountains of Transylvania, with bears for neighbors. And that's where Angela got the idea for 'Loving an Alien'... "One winter's night, by our log fire, I started thinking about my girlfriends around the world, many of whom had married a foreigner. Their lives were so similar, and yet so different to my own. Hmm, why not share our experiences? What if I go back to how it all started for me? Put my journalist hat on and interview them? Ask about life on Planet Love - what might they say?" If you're into global travel, romance, life lessons, the do's and don'ts of an intimate relationship, how to manage your in-laws, how to finesse your outlaws, how to raise rootless, bi-lingual, 'third culture' kids, then snuggle up with 'Loving an Alien'. In a remarkably candid series of Q&A's with twenty-seven women of different nationalities, Angela reveals what makes a mixed marriage tick ... and how to keep the love clock running. "My college friends thought I was stupid, crazy, and throwing away a bright future." Jennifer "Some girls think marrying an expat is the road to riches, but that's not true." Sumi "I never thought I'd be with an African, someone so different, from this tiny village." Sophie "It wasn't like I came to Sri Lanka to marry a Sri Lankan. It just happened." Jessica "Marrying into a different culture means you are not trapped by your own, which is how I felt." Wang Angela Nicoara doesn't just spill the beans, she gets the recipe. It's not memoir. It's not fiction. It's love, visas and all. Long-distance. Long term. Join Angela on a journey to the heart of it!"

more than two thousand years. He believed they were safe on Earth. He was wrong. When a nosy investigative reporter sets up a 'blind date' with an alien group dealing in the Intergalactic black market, Falden knows he must do whatever it takes to find out who she is and what she knows, including pretending to be her unknown contact. Unfortunately, Falden has spent a millennia out of the dating scene. Worse, he has no understanding of human courting rituals. Isabella Serrano is in danger. Her friend has disappeared, her contacts on the street are scared, and her only chance to infiltrate the alien black market is to accept a 'blind' meeting with one of the smugglers. When her 'blind date' turns out to be a drop-dead gorgeous alien with a bad attitude, something just doesn't add up. She can't decide if she'd rather kiss the dominant alpha or stab him in the eye with her four-inch heel. When a surprise attack forces them to escape together, she will have to trust him with her life. They soon give in to white-hot passion, yet both have secrets that could tear them apart. Will their growing love be enough to overcome the dangers that lie ahead? *If you love romance in the style of Nalini Singh, Christine Feehan, Grace Goodwin, J.R. Ward, Lara Adrian, S. E. Eliza Grady mourns the loss of the majority of the human male population more than most women do. Her life dream is to raise a family, and when it appears her only way to do so is to marry an alien, she finally agrees to accept a match with Logan TS-028. After a rocky start, Eliza falls hard for her sexy life mate and agrees to let him turn her into a celebrity homemaking queen. But when the business begins to overwhelm her, Eliza wonders if Logan's in love with her, or if what he really loves is what she can do for him. Logan was just as reluctant to be matched with a human as Eliza was to date him. Until he tried her apple pie. Given no choice but to stay on Earth, he decides to make the best of things. And Eliza presents him with more than a willingness to take care of him - she's got skills he can turn into a powerhouse business that has intergalactic appeal. As he falls deeply in love with Eliza, Logan gets carried away with his plan, and she threatens to quit. He must take a step back and figure out a way to run his new empire and keep the most important thing in his life - Eliza.

A strange bargain... Tyler Lang took the offer for a data-processing job in Sunset Falls, Montana—"Big Sky Country: Where the stars are close enough to touch!"—as a chance to escape a humiliating breakup. Mr. Evens' Odds & Ends Shop sounded like a great place to hide and focus solely (meaning ALONE) on her beloved numbers. Except she's constantly distracted by the looming presence of the shop's weirdly hot security guard. What kind of thrift store in the middle of nowhere needs protection? Not to mention a guard literally hot enough to make her computer smoke. These numbers just aren't adding up. A secret task... As captain of his banished beast battalion, Wyvryn Cross will take any job that keeps his fighters free from intergalactic incarceration. He'll even work for a devious Dirter who claims to be reopening a defunct Intergalactic Dating Agency outpost on Earth. Cross doesn't believe in a "universal mating algorithm"...until his smoldering gaze alights on the shy female who doesn't know anything about aliens on Earth and doesn't even realize she's writing a love code. Unfortunately, suddenly smoldering eyes are a bad sign in a Wyvryn. A last chance... They should just do their jobs and go their separate ways, but when a mysterious saboteur tries to shut down the Intergalactic Dating Agency before it opens, Tyler and Cross must work together to perfect her

When Vaughn Quaye's older sister goes missing in Big Sky Country, she's willing to risk everything to hunt down the only man who seems to know anything about the mysterious mail order bride agency that closed under suspicious circumstances. Except Vaughn is risking more than her life—she's discovering a universe of danger and desire she never knew existed. Dejo Jinn, sole proprietor of Jinn Data Recovery, just wants to steal—no, sorry, not steal, recover—the data left behind at the abandoned Intergalactic Dating Agency when it was forced to close after mistakenly losing some brides. He has no interest in revealing his extraterrestrialness to a clueless if distractingly curvy Earther, but after they are attacked and she sees his green blood, his secret is outed. Now reluctant partners, he'll have the chance to steal—sorry, recover—the valuable data and she'll get her sister back. Assuming they don't end up dead. Or worse yet, end up dating. The Intergalactic Dating Agency might be closed here in Big Sky Country, but some hearts are still dreaming of the stars. He won't leave Earth without her. After awakening from cryosleep, Rachel struggles to find her place in a strange new world. Earth isn't the way she remembers it. Not even close. For starters, humans have made contact with real live aliens. Before she can wrap her head around all the changes, a bossy Vaxxlian warrior shows up in her bedroom claiming to be her mate. She tries to send him away, but the alien in question is as stubborn as he is tall. He also looks infuriatingly good without his clothes on... Axall has never believed in fate or love at first sight. That is, until he meets Rachel—the petite human female with soulful blue eyes and wavy, dark hair who stirs up his protective side. One glance and he's completely smitten with the headstrong woman who incites his most primal desires. He's determined to capture her heart and take her back to planet New Vaxx. Despite Rachel's assertion that they aren't compatible, Axall keeps trying to woo her, and if he doesn't stop making those sexy growling noises, she just might lose her resolve. But no. It would never work—she has responsibilities on Earth she can't abandon, even if she is starting to fall for the hunky green-eyed alien with the heart of gold...
