Quiet time with God is simply spending time with Him. Thinking about Him. Talking to Him. Listening to Him. There are no requirements about the length of time or time of day. Scripture simply invites us into a closer relationship with our Heavenly Father. Did you catch that? All you need to do, according to scripture, to have a close relationship with God is to spend time with Him.

Time for God - Jacques Philippe - Google Books
To set aside the first part of your day and give it to God, set your alarm earlier than normal. Thirty minutes to an hour should allow you enough time to pray and read the Bible and/ or read an inspirational book. The night before you begin, it would be nice to gather a few special "ingredients" for your devotional prayer time.

Making Time for God | A Virtuous Woman: A Proverbs 31 Ministry
God gave us 24 hours in a day to accomplish what we need to get done. This includes adequate sleep, rest, and play. However, it's when we sleep too much, rest too much, or play too much that we fall into trouble. Some people fall on the other side of this spectrum by spending too much time on the job or doing school work.
