27, 2003, 27-year
old Aron Ralston

set off for a day's

hiking in the Utah

canyons. Dressed

in a t-shirt and

shorts, Ralston, a

seasoned climber,

figured he'd hike

for a few hours and

then head off to

work. 40 miles

from the nearest

paved road, he

found himself on
top of an

800-pound boulder.

As he slid down

and off of the

boulder it shifted,

trapping his right

hand against the

canyon wall. No

one knew where he

was; he had little

water; he wasn't

dressed correctly;

wasn't going

anywhere. He

remained trapped

for five days in the

canyon:

hypothermic at

night, de-hydrated

and hallucinating

by day. Finally, he

faced the most

terrible decision of

his life: bracing the

bones in his wrist

Online Library

Touching The

by snapping them
against the
boulder, he hacked
through the skin,
and finally
succeeded in
amputating his
right hand and
wrist. The ordeal,
however, was only
beginning. He still
faced a 60-foot
rappell to freedom,
and a walk of

several hours back
to his car - along
the way, he

miraculously met a

family of hikers,

and with his arms

tourniqued, and

blood-loss almost

critical, they heard

whir of helicopter

blades; just in time,

Aron was rescued

and rushed to

hospital. Since that day, Aron has had
a remarkable
recovery. He is
back out on the
